

After nearly two years of silence and inactivity I'm resuming my Salsa Alert emails. This alert will focus on the following:

1. Ribbon Cutting
2. Labor Day Salsa Party at CocoCabana
3. NY Salsa Congress
4. Salsa Sundays
5. Gogo-Earl at Golds-Gym

1) Please join us on the ribbon cutting grand-opening ceremony at CocoCabana, on Monday September 8th, 2003 starting at 5:30pm, on 2031-A University Boulevard, Hyattsville, MD 20783. Come see this venue and try our new dance floor, and don't worry about parking either we got it covered. The Prince George County Executive Jack Johnson will cut the ribbon. We will have a free buffet and cash bar, so get there early a lot of nice people from Prince George County are likely to be there. The vibe and outlook of CocoCabana is favorable among community leaders. Attached is a file named ribboncuttingflyer.jpg, this file has the information plus a diagram-map. I created the flyer myself.

2) The Labor Day Salsa Party at CocoCabana was a success THANK-YOU, THANK-YOU, THANK-YOU. It was much better than expected. Thanks for your support, it demonstrated that email campaigns work. And, that my email-list still to this day works like a Volvo engine. From the center of my heart we appreciate your support. Special thanks to Leon Harris, Eilleen Torres, and Jeri Dembrak. It was nice to see some good people that always respond.

3) NY Salsa Congress. Special MUAs go to Las Mambo Mamis and ClavaKazi for performing and representing the MD/DC/VA mambo dancing community at the Congress. Congratulations to David Melendez and Friends for a job well done and mission accomplished in spite of all the obstacles and low blows the event faced.

4) Salsa Sundays in Bethesda Dance Studio 4900 Auburn Avenue Bethesda, MD 20814 (301) 718-4608. $10 Cover Salsa Lessons 7-8pm Open Dancing with DJ Piero "El Clasico" from 8 - 11pm.

5) Open House at GOLD'S GYM on Saturday September 6, 2003, Free preview of 4 week sessions of salsa dancing classes starting September 13, 2003, at the Gold's Gym in Silver Spring Mall. For information call Earl Rush at 202.487.4646.
